Press Release

550 Broad Street Announces Culinary Kitchen and Food Incubator/Coworking Space Tenant

Pilotworks is bringing their wildly successful food incubator program to Newark!

NEWARK, Dec. 11. 2017/Heritage Capital Group/- Pilotworks Newark, a premier shared commercial kitchen space is coming Downtown Newark! Pilotworks is a company that provides a coworking space that's also an incubator, test kitchen, and commissary for emerging food and beverage brands to entrepreneurs in the food industry looking to grow and expand their businesses. Local food vendors, chefs, restaurateurs and budding entrepreneurs will have the opportunity to utilize an amazing space which features linen, garbage & receiving, branding and mentoring services as well as the modern and stylish coworking space.

At Pilotworks, their aim is to support food entrepreneurs by providing the space and specialty equipment they will need to lower their cost basis. Their mentoring program will assist in helping the entrepreneur with branding, sourcing, staffing, fundraising and more. Members can also utilize special software to interact with each other and book the available spaces. With current locations in New York, Rhode Island and Maine and locations in Texas and Chicago on the way, Pilotworks will soon be a major network of talented food connoisseurs honing their crafts.

The Pilotworks Newark space will also host events and trainings. Interested food entrepreneurs can visit thepilotworks.com/nj-newark to sign up for membership. The space will be located at 550 Broad Street, Newark, NJ 07102. For information on Pilotworks and details on their upcoming grand opening as well as other 550 Broad tenants, follow us on Facebook and LinkedIn at 550 Broad Street!
